No

Work etiquette

Keep up the good work

Speaking clearly during interview

Business etiquette, Steps on how to manage projects (Project Management)

Professional etiquette- how to present yourself in the workplace outside of just the interview/maintaining a job

Size/capacity

Have seperate workshops for men and women for the appropriate dress slideshow and have it be more interactive. Also more workshops.

NO

more organized in the sense that the interviewers knew what time they were interviewing

No it was amazing.

How to find a job

Nope

I signed up for job hunting skills but it was called resume writing at the event which didn't really relate to each other.

everything was good

Things to know before entering college

No I think the current ones have a great variety and each one is beneficial in some way or another

n/a workshop for interviewing tips

More types of companies.

No suggestions

Public speaking

Make more time for everything and do all the workshops.

The ones you had were good.

Bring a motivational speaker to help the ones who are really lazy

More Mock interviews for the Creative/Artistic people. (I know they are hard to get)

Attend all three more companies

Choosing jobs that we can have as teens that will benefit us later in our careers.

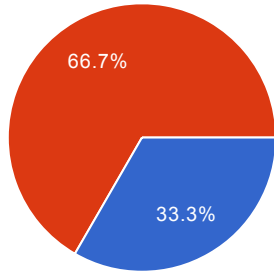

Being able to interview with more then one person or multiple interviews

How to speak louder.

Do you have any suggestions on how we could improve this event for the future?

I think the networking time would have been more helpful if there were more types of job representatives

Going more in detail on the workshops. The intructors of the social media and resume writing were explain things that teens should alreday know. The mock interview was the best part.

I think a luncheon with an ettiequite workshop would be beneficial to the students who attend because some interviews today take place in group sessions over a meal and being the person who knows how to conduct themselves properly in that setting would leaving a good impression on the potential employer.

no

Just try to get more students involved!

Giving the students more time at each station because the small time we were given was not enough.

be prompt so students aren't late for interviews

The schedule was not chronological ordered this caused confusion among myself and classmates.

Have everyone do all the workshops instead. Also, it would be more beneficial for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, and seniors could come if they wanted to.

It felt a little rushed, maybe slow it down a bit.

No, It was fantastic

A little more walking time so we can get to the rooms on time.

More companies information packets

Supply schools with the option to allow their students to choose what field/company they do their interview with to ensure a better interview that the students may be more familiar with.

Change the number system for grading around. Number 1 should be needs to improve and 5 would be excellent. The interviewers were confused and put 1 when they meant 5. Also, If you could make the room numbers clearer, perhaps put them on the doors. I did like that there were a lot of people to help direct though. Everyone was very nice!

The schedule needs to be more comprehensive. It should go in chronological order and always have the room number. Please do not use "the same room" without a room number next to.

Myself and a couple others ended up staying in the room we were previously in, which was not the job interview room, because of these layouts of our schedule.

Schedule was a little confusing
